RE: Promissory Note Dated July 5, 2017
Notice of Default

Dear Mr. Ard:

This law firm represents Dash Management, Inc. in the above referenced matter.

It has come to our attention that you and your company have defaulted on its payment obligations under the Promissory Note dated July 5, 2017. As such, we hereby declare the entire principle and interest due under the Promissory Note, that being $112,000.00, immediately due and payable.

If you and your company fail to make this payment in full within five (5) days of the date of this letter, then you will leave this office with no alternative but to commence a lawsuit against you and your company.

Please remember that under the terms of the Promissory Note, you and your company shall pay all expenses incurred, including attorneys' fees and court costs, in the enforcement of the Promissory Note.

Sincerely,
